the Publisher proposes to send copies of the Journal to all parts of this and the neighbouring Colonies—to India, Europe, and other parts of the world.

It will be edited by GEORGE BROOKS, Esq., Senior Colonial Surgeon; and will contain Treatises on Diseases of the Colony—Intelligence selected from recent Publications—and Information of every kind useful to the Profession. But, in order that these objects be successfully accomplished, Medical Practitioners, and all persons interested in that and its subordinate Sciences, are respectfully reminded that the Healing Art is essentially progressive; and that, as a vehicle of isolated discoveries, and of passing events, the Journal cannot be very useful without an extensive co-operation.

A THOUSAND COPIES of the first Number, in the new form, will be dispersed gratuitously; and persons who desire to patronise the Australian Medical Journal will have the goodness to favor Mr. BAKER with a call or message as early as possible.

Space will be found for ADVERTISEMENTS, and especially for such as may be connected with Science, or may concern the Profession in any of its Members, from the qualified Pure to the Apothecary's Apprentice.
